The president received a telegram from Mr. Finney stating that owing to a severe attack of acute rheumatism be could not be here at present. The president was there upon authorized to appoint some one to act in his place until such time as he was able to take charge of the office. In pursuance thereof he appointed Mr. William H. Plea sants secretary pro tem. Mr. Barksdale reported that he, with other members of the committee, bad called on Judge Ould, president of the Richmond, Predericksburg and Potomac railroad, to ask if means could not be adopted to use the cars on Broad street during the Fair. He had told them he knew of none. Mr. James Alfred Jones, who had been invited to give his opinion in the matter, said that he could see no reason why the city could not grant the privilege of running cars over the streets, as they had su-preme control over their highways, without there is some legislative act in the way. He was very emphatic in his opinion that an arrangement might be made in accordance with the wishes of the committee. Mr. Palmer offered the following :

MUSICAL COMMENCEMENT .- The music hall of Rithos & Moses was filled by the parents and friends of Mis. Colonel Harri son's piano pupils to witness the delivery of medals and certificates to the successful young ladies and enjoy listening to their beautiful playing. The programme embraced quartettes on two planes, together with duets and solos, and a duo upon organ and piano. At the conclusion the happy misses invited their friends to assist them in enjoying refreshments. The occasion was one of great pleasure and gratification at the progress of the scholars, and the playing did credit to Mrs. Harrison's supe rior training.

RICHMOND, VA , May 28, 1881. Editors Dispatch: Will you please call the attention of the Board of Health to the condition of the lots on the south side of Cary street between Madison and Belvidere? These premises have no culvert con-nection, and the closets empty into an old well on one of the lots, while the dirty water from the kitchens is intended to be carried off by a drain in the rear; but the well frequently overflows, the drain is nearly always filled up, and the stench arising from these two in warm weather is insufferable. We are sure that if the Board of Health would examine these lots and see their real condition they would remedy the evil at once, as it is within 100 yards of one of our largest public schools, and is a breeder of pestilence and disease. We understand that the property-owners are willing to make the culvert connection, but it is necessary to extend the street culvert, and the City Engineer promised to do this more than a year ago, but has not.
